

Information for trade creditors

An intervention [https://indemnity.sra.org.uk/consumers/using-solicitor/legal-jargon-explained#intervention] closes the firm [https://indemnity.sra.org.uk/consumers/using-solicitor/legal-jargon-explained#firm].

We cannot assume any liability [https://indemnity.sra.org.uk/consumers/using-solicitor/legal-jargon-explained#liability] or obligation [https://indemnity.sra.org.uk/consumers/using-solicitor/legal-jargon-explained#obligation] for trade debts relating to a firm that we regulate. Managers [https://indemnity.sra.org.uk/consumers/using-solicitor/legal-jargon-explained#manager] of an authorised body, or a recognised sole practice [https://indemnity.sra.org.uk/consumers/using-solicitor/legal-jargon-explained#recognised] are responsible for all trade debts.

You should consider seeking independent
[https://indemnity.sra.org.uk/consumers/using-solicitor/legal-jargon-explained#independent] legal advice if you are finding it difficult to get payment. You might also want to talk to your insurer to see if you are covered for the loss.
