Reasons/basis

This notification relates to a Decision to prosecute before the Solicitors Disciplinary Tribunal. This is an independent Tribunal which will reach its own decision after considering all the evidence, including any evidence put forward by the Solicitor. The Tribunal has certified that there is a case to answer in respect of allegations which are or include that whilst in practice as a Registered Foreign Lawyer and Partner at Jones Day LLP he:

On 4 July 2019, in response to being told that a Search Order to preserve evidence had been obtained against Client A and Person A, gave instructions of 'burn it' (or words similar to) to Person B in respect of electronic material held by Client A, and which led to a determination that he was criminally liable for contempt of court.

The allegations are subject to a Hearing before the Solicitors Disciplinary Tribunal and are as yet unproven.
